

Your Next Want Ad

May find the one more boarder you want to fill your table.

THE MARION DAILY MIRROR.

Your Next Want Ad

May be answered by the best eligible servant girl in town.

VOLUME XX—NUMBER 73.

MARION, OHIO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1911.

PRICE TWO CENTS

NO BONANZA IS LIKE THIS

Ball Officials Swamped With Money and Checks.

CAN'T FILL NEAR ALL ORDERS

Scalpers Get Large Batch of Tickets—Fans Boiling Over.

Charge Crookedness on Part of Officials—Charge Denied.

Latter Claim They Can't Prevent Scalpers From Getting Tickets. Over $100,000 Will Have to be Returned as Tickets Cannot be Supplied.

By United Press Wire. New York, Oct. 12.—Offering $500 to any person who can prove he knowingly permitted a single ticket for the world's series to go into the hands of a "scalper." Secretary William Gray, of the New York club, today denied that the officials in charge of the sale of tickets are in any way responsible for the fact that scalpers are offering thousands of tickets for sale at double and treble the box office price.

Neither this statement nor the assurance that John Brush's $10,000 offer for a scheme that will eliminate the scalpers still stands, appeased the wrath of the disappointed baseball enthusiasts, who have been storming the door to Gray's office all day. Many of them stood in line for hours, waiting for a chance to get to the box office windows, then to be advised that all the tickets had been sold, while speculators with hundreds of the coveted pastebords were offering to sell them at profits of 100 and 200 per cent.

At the office of Mr. Gray today it was stated that the same methods by which speculators have gained possession of tickets in years gone by were used this year. One of the men closest to Gray on returning from a conference with him this morning, said:

"Without doubt well-dressed men were hired by speculators to wait in line until they could purchase tickets. In other cases speculators had people write from other cities, sending certified checks for the series. After these orders were filled they are sent by the people receiving the tickets to the speculators in New York. There is absolutely no way in which the speculator can be eliminated. He gets tickets for the world's series in precisely the manner that he gets tickets for the theaters."

Concerning the statement that Frank Farrell, owner of the Highlanders, was given no consideration in the matter of tickets, despite the fact he gave the Giants three months' free use of his grounds when the Polo grounds were burned, the officials in charge of ticket sales had nothing to say. When the matter was called to Gray's attention, he said: "I know nothing of the Farrell affair."

Return Good Sized Fortune. Pointing to a big box, stacked high with certified checks and money orders, he added: "There is $100,000 in that box, all of which is to be returned because for one reason or another the orders could not be filled. We are completely swamped here. Fifteen girls were put at work, sorting and returning the checks."

Hundreds of irate fans, who received neither tickets nor money orders nor the return of their checks, swarmed about the halls of the National league headquarters, 1133 Broadway. They were not satisfied with the assurance that their money would be returned early next week, probably after the series had been finished.

Each man had an individual case that he insisted required a personal interview with Secretary Gray, but Gray locked himself in his private office and detailed a policeman to send away all visitors. Other officers were assigned to the clearing of the halls. Fearing that the angry men would become riotous, policemen would not permit them to congregate even in small groups.

Baseball enthusiasts from all over the country who had mailed money orders for their tickets, expecting they would be here and ready for them when they arrived, have come to New York to find that they will either have to pay the exorbitant price asked by the "scalpers" or return without seeing the games.

All Kinds of Soreness. The commonest mistake made by those ordering tickets by mail was that of sending money for single games. Those in charge of the ticket sales made no reservations for single games or for two games. The reservation had to be for the entire series or for none at all. But there are scores who say they sent money for the entire series and have failed to get either tickets or money.

Flaws are being picked in the statements of those in charge of the ticket sales. They argue that if reservations were made only for the entire series there would only be as many tickets to be sold for Tuesday and Thursday's games as there were for Saturday's. The Saturday tickets were all reported sold early yesterday morning but it was possible to buy

REBELLION SWEEPS CHINA: WHOLE ARMIES DESERTING: LEADERS PLAN REPUBLIC

From all Parts of Empire Reports of Bloodshed and Anarchy Come—Pekin Itself is Threatened. Three Army Corps, 15000 Men in all, Desert to Rebels—Armed Men are Plundering and Pillaging Manchuria at Will.

Rebellion Rapidly Passing From Control of Leaders and Attacks on Foreigners Expected Hourly—Dr. Sun Yat Sen Said to be at Head of Revolt—Is Noted For Republican Sentiments.

Peking, Oct. 12.—The rebellion that within a week has flamed through the central province of China, has spread now to the north, and from all parts of the empire comes reports of bloodshed and anarchy. The capital itself is threatened and the government, overwhelmed by the fury of the storm, is for the moment helpless.

Communication with Hankow, Wu Chang and Hanyang, the three great sister cities on the Yangtze Kiang where the revolution is centered, has been cut off, but not before the startling news had been flashed over the wires that Hankow was in flames and that incendiary and massacre were marching hand in hand across the provinces of Hu-Poh, Hu Nan, Szechuen and Kiang Su.

Three army corps, 15,000 men in all, have been deserted to the rebels and the whole imperial army is seething with sedition. The torch of revolt blazed today in Manchuria where three hundred persons are reported slain and bands of armed men are wandering through the country pillaging and looting.

Thus far there has been no attack on foreigners and the leaders of the revolt have promised them the fullest protection but it is feared that the rebellion is passing rapidly out of the control of the leaders and at any moment the traditional hatred of the white races may burst forth. A flotilla of foreign gunboats is anchored off Hankow and a force of marines has been landed under the command of Admiral Kawashima, of the Japanese navy. British, American, German and Japanese warships are also patrolling the coast but it is in the interior that the worst danger lies. The greatest anxiety is felt for missionaries in isolated up-country stations.

Quiet has so far prevailed here in the capital but there are strong indications that an outbreak is imminent. The troops are openly mutinous and their officers do not dare give them orders. The government has shown its weakness by offering amnesty to all rebels who submit and express contrition. All the white residents have gathered in the legations and warnings have been issued against the danger of foreigners entering the native city.

Little is known of who is leading the revolution or even its exact aims beyond a proclamation that the Manchu dynasty must be destroyed.

The revolutionists are said to be planning a republic and the master minds of the movement is reported to be Dr. Sun Yat Sen, a man of broad education and wide attainments, who has been in exile for his republican sentiments but who is now supposed to be in Shanghai. Intense excitement was caused here today by a report from Hankow that Lai Yuen-tung

Ling, one of the chief commanders of the Chinese army, has deserted to the rebels and been elected president of the provisional republic. If this is true, it is believed almost the entire army will follow.

Hankow, Oct. 12.—Every hour the flame of rebellion is spreading more rapidly over China and the empire seriously threatened with the destruction of its monarchy and the establishment of the first Orient republic in the history of the world.

Our provinces are now affected—Nu-Teh, Nu-Nan, Kiang-Su and Szechuen. Liu-Poh and Szechuen are practically in the hands of the revolutionists. Chang-Su, the capital of Nu-Nan, has revolted and Nanking, the capital of Kiang-Su, is the scene of fierce fighting, the result of which is not yet known.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, called for preaching republicanism, is now leading the revolutionists and his brother Sun Yu has been elected president of the provisional assembly. Both are men of wide education and broad and liberal views. All their operations show the result of long thought-out and carefully prepared plans and thus far they have met with uninterrupted success.

Manchus Massacred. Although strict orders have been issued to respect the lives and property of foreigners, under penalty of death, the revolutionary leaders have started a conflagration which they may not be able to control. While there has not yet been any anti-foreign outbreak, massacres of Manchus are reported from every part of the revolting provinces and the whole country is ablaze with incendiary fires.

Thousands of convicts have been released and pillaging is widespread. Grave fear is felt here that the mob, once having tasted blood, will not be easily restrained and the foreign residents are waiting anxiously to hear the familiar cry: "Down with the white devils."

All of the missionaries who were in Wu-Chang have sought refuge here with the exception of Miss R. A. Kemp, of the Episcopal society and the sisters and members of the Roman Catholic mission who refused to desert their posts.

Imperial troops are reported on their way here from Szechuen but it will be a week at least before a force can arrive sufficient to meet the rebels on equal terms.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The state department today received the following cablegram from Secretary Williams, in charge of the American embassy at Peking:

"Hankow reported in flames. Americans seem to be safe. Fifteen thousand men, composing three army corps have joined the rebels. Communication from Hankow has been cut off."

PROGRESSIVES WANT SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

Cleveland, O., Oct. 12.—Progressive Republicans began laying plans here today to prevent a solid Ohio Taft delegation at the Republican convention next fall. The campaign will be waged under the law passed in the dying days of the last legislature, providing for the direct nomination by districts of candidates for presidential nominations. The law provides that two delegates shall be elected in each congressional district, and four candidates by the state convention.

James R. Garfield's decision to go to the progressive rally at Chicago October 16 opened the fight. "It is certain that the delegation from Ohio will be split," said J. D. Fackler, East Cleveland insurgent, today. "Taft seems certain of Cincinnati to about the same extent Cleveland seems sure for the progressives. The balance of the state will represent a checkboard of Taft and anti-Taft delegates."

An attempt will be made by the progressives to pass a presidential preference law by securing a special session of the legislature this fall.

Postpones Fight. Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 12.—Aviator Hugh Robinson at 9 a. m. postponed the start of his Mississippi valley flight for New Orleans for two or three hours on account of adverse winds. Robinson made two trials and decided that the wind was too strong to make a start southward.

WAR. Tripoli, Oct. 12.—Preparations are being pushed rapidly for the military expedition to the interior. The Italians have 22,000 troops at their disposal and the officers are anxious to move the men as soon as possible on account of the appearance of cholera in the camp.

The Turks are reported to be occupying entrenched position not far from the city and to have in their possession thirty cannons.

CRUMBLING AND SLIDING OF EARTH UNDER MAMMOTH GATUNDAM CAUSES ALARM AMONG RESIDENTS OF NEIGHBORING PANAMA CITY

Crumbling and sliding of the earth around the great Gatun locks of the Panama canal, with the news of the disastrous floods in Wisconsin and at Austin, Pa., is giving residents of Colon, Panama, a great deal of uneasiness. The latest slide Col. George W. Goethals, in charge of the work, and government officials admit, caused four-month delay in the construction of the cofferdam. They scout theories of danger to the main structure, but there are many in Panama who have contended that the ground under the Gatun dam is not strong enough to support the great lake the dam will form, and people continue to wonder what would happen to Colon if the dam would give way.

O. C. BARBER SAYS GOVERNMENT ENCOURAGES GOUGING—BIG FINANCIERS EXPLOIT US ALL

Laughs at Taft's Statement That Sherman Law Prosecutions Have Settled Trust Question—Only One Trust and That is Financial Trust—Favors Initiative and Referendum—Doesn't Know Three Lawyers in Akron Who Could be Trusted on Business Proposition.

Akron, O., Oct. 12.—O. C. Barber, the match king, probably will be among the Summit county delegates to the progressive Republican convention in Chicago next week. Mr. Barber is uncertain whether business will permit his attendance, but will be there in spirit anyway. "Every man who thinks is an insurgent," says Barber. "Affairs in this country are bad and getting worse. The reasons are simple but the remedy a long way off. I am afraid that my friend Taft has shot his wad. He is scabby and can not see very far."

"What do you think of his statement that the Sherman law prosecutions have settled the trust question?"

"If an ordinary man told me that, I would call him a fool."

Government Encourages Gouging. "The trouble is that the American government encourages every man to gouge every other man as much as he will stand. The result is that the big financiers exploit everybody else."

They are exploited as investors, as consumers, as laborers and as ship-owners. They talk about different trusts. It is nonsense. There is only one trust and that is the financial trust. France is far ahead of us in such matters. There the government supervises all issues of railroad bonds, making sure there is no water and then underwrites the bonds. The common people buy them merely as a safe investment.

"What we need is to curtail the American right to gouge and endeavor to establish a community of interest, a relationship in which every man will receive his due."

"Do you favor an initiative and referendum?"

"I do, even though I think its results may be disappointing at first. Seventy per cent of our law-makers are lawyers, to say nothing of the judges who are lawyers and make more law than the legislature."

"I don't know three lawyers in Akron who could be trusted on a business proposition."

CONVICTS GET AWAY FROM PEN

Climb Wall in Broad Daylight—Guard Sees Them.

Says He Didn't Shoot For Fear of Hitting People in Street.

Whole Matter Will be Investigated—May be Conspiracy.

By United Press Wire. Columbus, O., Oct. 12.—Under the eyes of a guard, armed with a rifle, stood sixty feet away, two convicts went over the west wall of the penitentiary a few minutes before noon Friday and escaped.

The men are Clyde Stratton, serving five years from Williams county for burglary, and Steve Tichonak, alias Steve Murray, serving four years from Miami county for grand larceny. These two bring to eighteen the total number of escapes since T. H. B. Jones became warden in May, 1909. "I saw the two men going over the wall, but I didn't shoot at them because I was afraid of hitting people who were passing in the street below," explained Guard Steinhart, who was on duty in the tower near which the men escaped.

Steinhart's explanation is to be rigidly investigated. "We're going to find out whether any guards winked at the escape of these two men, just to embarrass Warden Jones," said a penitentiary official. Recently there has developed friction between Jones and some of the guards.

How the two convicts managed to reach the top of the wall without being seen by any of the guards, is one of the mysteries of the escape that will be looked into.

Once outside the wall, Murray and Stratton scurried down an alley and headed for the railroad yards. That was the last seen of them.

Stratton was formerly a student at Purdue university, Lafayette, Indiana, and has tattooed on one of his arms the name of the Greek letter fraternity of which he is a member. His mother lives at Starr and Parker streets, Toledo, Ohio.

To Declare Peace. London, Oct. 12.—It is reported here that a high official of the foreign office has stated that peace will be declared between Italy and Turkey within a fortnight.

REVOLUTION IS IMPENDING

Young Turks Are Bound to Upset All Conditions.

INSIST ON PROSECUTING WAR

Will Take Steps in Parliament to Carry Out Their Plans.

London Newspapers Say Turkey is Crumbling Away.

By United Press Wire. London, Oct. 12.—The most serious news has reached here from Constantinople, where every indication points to an impending revolution with consequences of tremendous importance to the rest of Europe. The Young Turks, by far the most powerful and best organized party in the empire, are committed irrevocably to war and it is believed are equally determined to depose the sultan.

When parliament opens tomorrow their delegates will insist that the war against Italy is prosecuted to the bitter end. Resolutions will also be introduced for the cancellation of Italian property in Turkey and the immediate expulsion of all Italians from the Turkish dominions.

These steps were decided upon today at a caucus held in Constantinople, and the Young Turks leaders confidently assert that they have a sufficient majority to compel the adoption of their policy.

The London papers all take a gloomy view of the situation. The Daily Telegraph's Constantinople correspondent wires that Turkey is crumbling away. The same authority says the problem of combining Islamism and constitutionalism has proved insoluble and that the old autocracy may be restored with Prince Yussuf, the heir apparent on the throne.

In the meantime, there is marching and counter-marching along the Balkan borders where the sick man's restless foot finger their sword hilts and wait eagerly for a propitious moment to strike. Bulgaria, Serbia, Roumania, Montenegro, hating each other but hating much more their common foe, are arming every available man and straining feverishly at the leash.

Fighting on Montenegrin Border. London, Oct. 12.—A dispatch from Constantinople says that fighting has broken out on the Montenegrin border. A Montenegrin patrol was attacked by a Turkish patrol and 12 Montenegrins and three Turks were killed. Further trouble is feared.

DEFENSE CALLS POINT VICTORY

Grand Jury Which Arraigned Harrington is Discharged.

WON'T PRESS CHARGE

Prosecution Asks Latitude in Questioning Jurors be Narrowed.

But Judge Refuses—Wants to Give Both Sides all Latitude.

Defense Claims Action of Judge in Grand Jury Matter Indicates That He Has Decided to Side With Prosecution no Longer.

By United Press Wire.

Los Angeles, Oct. 12.—When the examination of McNamara venturmen was resumed by Attorney Lecompte for the defense at the opening of court today the prosecution registered strenuous opposition to Judge Bordwell's ruling that the widest latitude will be allowed in determining whether prospective jurors are opposed to labor unions. The state insisted that the fact that James B. McNamara is a member of a union in no reason to compel a venire to explain its position on the union question. Judge Bordwell explained his desire to give both sides the benefit of every privilege under the code and told District Attorney Fredricks he would have the same right when he examined the men to determine whether the venire is opposed to the Merchants and Manufacturers' association.

The defense is highly pleased over the announcement that the state grand jury which has been in session for a year, will finally dissolve this afternoon. McNamara's attorneys openly assert that this would not have been brought about had not they filed with the court affidavits demanding a change of judge on the ground that this particular grand jury was kept alive for the benefit of the prosecution.

Defense Claims Victory. The affidavits cited the fact that on September 18, Judge Bordwell ordered the inquisitorial body to bring John B. Harrington, attorney for the defense, before him to explain whether he offered D. H. Ingersoll of San Francisco $5,000 and an automobile to influence his wife to fail to identify James B. McNamara as James Brice. Bordwell directed Harrington to answer the grand jury's question and now that the jury is being dissolved without pressing the point, the defense insists it has won a victory. It declares this action means the court has decided to side with the prosecution no longer. It is hoped that when court adjourns this afternoon, the majority of the remaining members of the initial venire will have been disposed of so that a second panel can be drawn to be served Monday. This is unlikely, however, because of the latitude extended to both sides by the court.

That the court fears that the illness or death of one juror might cause a mistrial was made evident when he instructed the attorneys for both sides that, in examining veniremen, they might develop a juror's state of health before finally accepting him.

ROOSEVELT STABS AT ARBITRATION

Says General Treaties Are of no Great Importance.

By United Press Wire.

New York, Oct. 12.—Declaring that "general arbitration treaties are merely promissory notes and that no promise comes in the same category as action," Theodore Roosevelt, in the current number of The Outlook, says: "I do not regard even good general arbitration treaties as of really prime importance."

Holding up the action of Russia in refusing to permit American citizens of Jewish faith to travel in that country as an indication of the readiness with which treaties are disregarded, Mr. Roosevelt suggests that the question of abrogating the Russo-American treaty of 1921 be submitted to arbitration.

Mr. Roosevelt says that it is inevitable the treaty will be denounced and relative to the possibility of entering into a new agreement to arbitrate all differences, adds: "Under no circumstances would we make with Russia or with any other power a treaty which explicitly permitted such discriminations as Russia actually makes against certain classes of our citizens."